

GiveOUT Day 2026 - Frequently Asked Questions

What is GiveOUT Day?

GiveOUT Day is an annual fundraising campaign supporting rainbow organisations across Aotearoa New Zealand. In Aotearoa, GiveOUT Day is run by the Rainbow New Zealand Charitable Trust with the support of campaign partners and sponsors.

During GiveOUT Day, participating organisations such as Q-Youth have the opportunity for eligible donations to be matched through a national matched-funding pool. It is a fantastic opportunity to support rainbow organisations while helping community donations go even further.

GiveOUT Day 2026 runs from 7pm on Thursday 8 October until 11:59pm on Monday 12 October.

You can find Q-Youth's campaign here:

How does the matched-funding pool work?

Each participating organisation has been allocated up to $1,000 in initial match funding.

If Q-Youth receives at least $1,000 in eligible donations, we can access the full $1,000 allocation. If we receive less than $1,000 in eligible donations, the eligible amount raised will be matched and the unused portion of our allocation returns to the central match pool.

Once organisations have accessed their initial allocations, additional eligible donations may be matched from the remaining national pool while funding is available. No participating organisation can receive more than $10,000 in matched funding across the campaign.

At the time of writing, the national match pool is approximately $65,000 and there are 23 participating organisations. If every organisation accesses its full initial $1,000 allocation, approximately $42,000 would remain in the central pool. The actual amount available can vary because unused initial allocations return to the pool.

Because the remaining pool is shared between participating organisations, matching beyond Q-Youth's first $1,000 is not guaranteed.

Does this mean every donation is doubled?

Not necessarily. Eligible donations can be matched while match funding is available, subject to GiveOUT Day's eligibility rules and funding limits.

Our first goal is to raise at least $1,000 in eligible community donations, allowing Q-Youth to unlock its full initial $1,000 match allocation. After that, additional eligible donations may still attract matching from the wider national pool.

Regardless of whether a donation is matched, every donation still supports Q-Youth and our mahi in Te Taihū.

What is an eligible donation?

To be considered for GiveOUT Day matching, donations must be made during the eligible campaign period and comply with the Participant Agreement.

The eligible campaign period is:

7pm, 8 October 2026 - 11:59pm, 12 October 2026

There are also limits and safeguards around matched funding:

- Donations made by Q-Youth staff members or family members of staff are not eligible for matching.
- Only the first $2,000 from any individual donor is eligible for matching.
- Donations over $1,000 from a single donor may be reviewed by the Rainbow New Zealand Charitable Trust to ensure they comply with the Participant Agreement and relevant AML/CFT requirements.
- Q-Youth cannot use its own existing funds to generate matched funding.
- Funds received from sponsors, funding partners, trusts, charitable organisations or foundations cannot be used by Q-Youth to access matched funding.
- Cash donations made at Q-Youth events held during the GiveOUT Day campaign dates can be counted as eligible donations.
- Match funding remains subject to the availability of the national match pool.

Can I donate more than $2,000?

Yes. The $2,000 limit relates only to how much of an individual donor's contribution can be considered for matched funding.

You are still welcome to donate more than $2,000 if you wish. Any amount above the eligible matching limit remains a donation to Q-Youth; it simply will not attract additional matched funding under that individual donation.

Donations over $1,000 may be reviewed as part of GiveOUT Day's normal oversight process.

Can businesses support GiveOUT Day?

Absolutely. Local businesses can support Q-Youth in many ways, including:

- Making a direct donation.
- Encouraging staff who wish to donate personally.
- Sharing our campaign with staff, customers and networks.
- Promoting GiveOUT Day through newsletters or social media.
- Donating products, vouchers or other items that Q-Youth may be able to use as fundraising prizes or auction items.
- Becoming one of our Champion or Keystone supporters.

The GiveOUT Day rules distinguish between general community donations and some forms of sponsorship or funding-partner support. We therefore do not promise businesses that a corporate donation will automatically be matched.

If your business would like to support the campaign, please contact us and we can talk through the best way to help.

What will the money raised be used for?

Funds raised through Q-Youth's GiveOUT Day campaign will support our work with rainbow, takatāpui and gender-diverse young people across Te Taihū.

Q-Youth provides safe spaces, community, support, advocacy and education, helping young people find connection, belonging and trusted support. Every contribution helps us continue providing this mahi to local young people.

Do small donations actually help?

Very much so. GiveOUT Day is designed around collective community support, and a large number of small donations can have just as much impact as a handful of larger gifts.

While match funding is available, an eligible $10, $20 or $50 donation can potentially attract an equivalent amount from the matched-funding pool. Even when matching is no longer available, every donation continues to support Q-Youth directly.

Do I have to donate to help?

Not at all. Financial donations are only one way to support the campaign.

You can also:

- Share our GiveOUT Day page.
- Tell friends, whānau and colleagues about the campaign.
- Share Q-Youth's social media posts.

- Volunteer at one of our fundraising events.
- Help us approach local businesses.
- Help create or share campaign content.
- Donate suitable items for prizes or fundraising activities.
- Simply help us spread the word.

One of the most valuable things people can do is help Q-Youth reach people who may not already know about our work.

Can I volunteer during GiveOUT Day?

Yes! We would love some extra help during the campaign.

We are particularly looking for people who can help with:

- Running activities at fundraising events.
- Approaching local businesses and community supporters.
- Social media content and moderation.
- Promoting the campaign.
- Helping with GiveOUT Day activities between 8-12 October.

You do not need to commit to the entire campaign. Even a few hours can be useful.

I'm a business or organisation and want to help. Who should I contact?

We would love to hear from you.

Let us know what sort of support you may be able to offer and we'll work out what makes sense.

Where can I donate?

Q-Youth's official GiveOUT Day campaign page is:
<https://giveout-day-2026.raiselysite.com/q-youth>

If your goal is for your donation to be considered for GiveOUT Day matching, please make sure you donate during the eligible GiveOUT Day period and follow the campaign donation process.

What happens if the match pool runs out?

The fundraiser does not stop. GiveOUT Day's national matching pool is limited, so matching can finish before the campaign itself ends.

If that happens, you can still donate to Q-Youth through our campaign page. Your donation simply will not receive additional matched funding. Your support is just as valuable to us either way.

Can I share the campaign?

Please do!

You can share our campaign page with friends, whānau, colleagues, workplaces and community groups:

<https://giveout-day-2026.raiselysite.com/q-youth>

Sharing the campaign is one of the easiest ways to help, even if you are not personally in a position to donate.
